Film made by Chevrolet comparing railroading to driving an automobile. Driving is compared with running a railroad train. With excellent images of steam-era passenger trains.

THE BUILDING OF THE AMBASSADOR BRIDGE (1927 - 1928)

What may interest you are things like the shots of the rail yards below the bridge (photos #6 and #8). At one time it was a very busy place with a large Wabash roundhouse (photo #13) and all the ferry traffic (photos #3 and #16) across the Detroit River.

Also note in photos #8 and #16, the large building to the rear is Michigan Central Depot.

FINALLY, FINALLY, FINALLY ( I volunteer here! )

After what amounts to several years of negotiating, and dodging around several roadblocks, I can finally announce the Elgin County Railway Museum are now the proud owners of a 97 year old former Michigan Central locomotive shop, plus 16 acres of land in St. Thomas. The agreement was signed this afternoon.

Now if anyone wants to donate 1.3 million dollars to us to replace the roof, I'm sure we can give you a charitable tax receipt. ;-)
